

A detailed illustration of a tiger's head is the central focus, set within a circular frame. The frame is decorated with a festive border of holly leaves, red berries, and stylized flowers. To the right of the tiger's head, several Christmas ornaments are visible, including a red one with gold patterns and a green one with red and gold geometric designs. In the top left corner, a portion of a silver, textured Christmas stocking is visible. The entire scene is set against a dark red background.
